Brazen Operator Walks Through Hospital On Pretext

The purses of two Memorial hospital nurses aides on duty were rifled by a brazen thief, who made his way practically unnoticed into the hospital on the pretext that he was interested in the maternity ward.

The brazen operator, described as a young man of medium build. took $35 from the white leather pouch-type purse of Mrs. Ruth Sides, Douglassville RD 2. He apparently rooted through the purse of Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner, 1318 High street, but left the purse and its contents when he could find no money.

Mrs. Sides $35 was contained in a pink, leather wallet. The thief took the wallet with the money. The wallet contained a number of valuable cards.

The Douglassville RD 2 woman recovered the wallet, minus the money, yesterday. The wallet was found by Robert Schultz, 1114 High street, in the hedge in front of his home yesterday morning.

ALTHOUGH THE money was stolen Wednesday night, after pay day at the hospital, the news was not made public by police until yesterday.

Police said the news was not made available because the hos pital requested that there be no publicity on the theft. The theft of Mrs. Sides' wallet, taken from her purse in life was explained during the afternoon meeting yesterday at the Pine Forge camp meeting of Seventh Day Adventists.

"God had man's best interest in view," Dr. Frank Hale Jr. told a large audience in the big tent, "and he wanted to reveal to man the significance of living both here and in the hereafter.

Dr. Hale is a faculty member at Oakwood college, alma mater of the Elder William L. Cheatham, Allegheny conference president.

"God could have drawn a picture," the speaker explained, "but man would have called it obscure. God could have told a story, but man would have called it a legend. . . .

HAD GOD enforced His will, man would have called him a dictator, Dr. Hale continued.

"But God did none of these," the speaker went on, "Choosing to reveal Himself through His son, Jesus Christ, the Scriptures declare-'In Him was life, and the Life was the light of men,' as recorded in John 1:4.

"Man can become a slave to himself and to things, looking at things without seeing the source of power within them."

A training center for Christ must lead men and women to a complete surrender of one's soul to Christ, concluded Dr. Hale. * * *

SPEAKING TO adults in the early morning service under the big top, Elder W. M. Fordham of Businessmen Hear Washington, D. C. outlined from the Bible the sacrifice of Christ in the sanctuary.

The law, he cried, demanded a "Reward of all doubt about the animal, a lamb, bullock, turle-dove, the blood of the innocent animal atoned for man. This ritual pointed Newark, N. ### Helping Kids Damage Schools

ARE Pottstown police aiding juvenile van-dalism by suppressing news of the depredations?

Gangs of "big boys," riding in their racy turning sliding boards and seasaws, removing swings from hooks.

That's what neighbors say they reported

Then, the past week, some younger boys broke padlocks off Rupert school window screens, smashed glass and entered the school to ransack recreation department supplies.

Police were told Friday about the in- the tax bills? cident. The chief of police brushed off the report that "We can't do anything until next grove townships, face up to the fact that billboards seems to be outlawed in other week because of the holiday.'

While crime takes no holiday, police did wait until Tuesday to investigate, then picked up some youths.

But they failed to make public the details of the school entry, the ransacking and the arrests. The Pottstown Recreation department also hushed the vandalism-as if it was a blot on that association.

The recreation director of the Rupert playground strenuously attempted to impede schools has been fixed definitely and the efforts of a newspaper photographer to get finally in Prince Edward County, Va., in Hollywood. Of these, only 212 worked a picture, and a reporter from getting the news.

Why?

Pottstown taxpayers are losing a lot of Negro children will receive no education money through damage done to local school property by young hoodlums. In June alone many other localities throughout the re-$280 was spent to replace broken glass in bellious South. school windows. School authorities spend at least $50 every other Summer month to replace glass. Some of the damage may be accidental. Homerun balls, and missed flies will break windows. That's excuseable. But evidence that stones were thrown, sticks hurled through windows also showed that some of the damage was deliberate.

School authorities also are worried, too, about minor damage, such as smearing of walls with mud, ice cream, and the like. To repair this damage costs money, too.

The Pottstown school board now is making papers and "liberal" politicians have plans to light all the schools all night longboth fronts of the buildings and the grounds. That might discourage some of the vandalism, tually, to the high tribunal's dictum. They because crime doesn't flourish in the light.

But police could end some of this vandalism by closer cooperation with the citizenry. Police have been called many times by neighbors who deplored the vandalism. These persons who telephoned police say they got no response. School authorties, too, have pleaded for help.

Now comes a flagrant secreting of news of arrests. Do parents know what their children are doing? Are parents asked to pay the damage? Isn't it in the public interest for police to publicize their actions?

* Certainly no policeman wants to incur the hatred of boys by constantly nagging them. But neither does the community want to see damage of hundreds of dollars done to public property, and to pay that damage out of their tax money!

There's a happy medium here. Police can subscription. The response has been so break up the vandalism. That's by letting the despoilers know they're laying for them, and will arrest them if caught!

COLLEGEVILLE-Mrs. Donald Yerkes. Corr., Phone Schwenksville 9103. Gerald Hefelfinger, del., Phone Collegeville 9371

The children's Fourth of July parade, which has been held in Collegeville for the past five years, through the inspiration of Mr. and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast of Seventh avenue, is growing each year. Started as a neighborhood event, more and more children show an interest each year and this year over 30 youngsters appeared and participated with their decorated bicycles and other conveyances.

The children ranged from four years to junior high age.

The parade, led by Pancoast in his car, took a route down Seventh avenue, across Chestnut, down Sixth, down Main to Fifth avenue and in to the Monument where the children sang "America and "Davy Crockett" before returning to the Pancoast home where they had punch and cookies.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE-Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR

is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Georgette Leone Foster Bride Of Charles Laverne Reinford At Surprise Party

The Rev. E. L. Angstadt, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Sumneytown, officiated recently at the marriage of Georgette Leona Foster and Charles Laverne Rein-

Only the immediate families were present in the parsonage when the couple exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Foster, Sumneytown. Mr. Reinford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reinford, reside in Lederach.

As her wedding costume the bride chose a gown of Summer tulle. The strapless bodice and shrug jacket were embroidered in a lace design, and the bouffant skirt was waltz length.

With her gown the bride wore a fingertip veil secured to a wreath of white roses and tulle. She carried a white Bible topped with two orchids and streamers of baby's breath and stephanotis.

Virginia Foster was maid of honor for her sister. Her gown of vellow net over satin was fashioned with a low round neckline, sleeveless bodice and bouffant, waltz length skirt.

Miss Foster also wore a fingertip veil with a wreath of yellow roses, and carried a Colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mr. Reinford was attended by Winfield Lynch as best
